The Opening Preliminaries -- A Brief Description of Some of the Many Exhibits Displayed.

Winston, N. C., Nov. 3.-The opening day of what is, without doubt, the biggest occasion in the history of Winston-Salem, dawned with a clear sky and crisp, breezy atmosphere. The bright sun, as it rose and east its first rays upon the city, with its im- Singer sewing machine exhibit, and posing buildings, tastefully and beautifully decorated in bright colors, made a picture worthy of the enterprising and hustling city.

Winston-Salem never does things by halves-she goes full breadth, depth and length. This mammoth tobacco fair is no departure from her custom. The towns are full of people-people from all parts of the state; people from all over Forsyth and adjoining counties, all kinds, classes and conditions of people, and the people of Winston-Salem greet all with a gladsome smile, hearty hand shake and royal wel-

This morning, as a preliminary to the formal opening of the grand exhibition, all citizens from the country and the towns were cordially invited to, join in a street procession, which formed at 10 o'clock on Fifth street, with the chief marshal and aides first, then following came the first division, Col. J. S. Carr, and the orator of the occasion, Col. J. S. Cunningham, executive committee, military organizations, fire companies, and hook and ladder companies.

Second Division-Mayors of Winston and Salem, scholars of Oak Ridge Institute, Junior Order of American Mechanics.

Third Division-Citizens in carriages, citizens on horseback and citizens on foot.

The line of March was out Fifth to Summit street, down Summit to Fourth, down Fourth to Cherry, down Cherry to Shallowford, up Shallowford to Main, down Main to Salem square and up Main to the armory, where the fair was formally opened by a ringing speech from Col. Cunningham, who was introduced in a graceful manner by Cal. Carr.

The Farmer's warehouse, where the main exhibits are displayed, is the chief center of attraction. It would require the space of a whole newspaper to half way do justice to the attractive and varied exhibits here made. They are elegantly and tastefully ar-

Beginning in the northwest corner we find the first attraction to be the exhibit of the Brown-Rogers Co., hardware, mowers, reapers and binders, grain drills, with the machinery running by electric motor. Next is the magnificent drug display of E. W. O'Hanlon, the corner drug store man. Next to this comes an attractive display of coal and ice, by D. H. King. Then the furniture establishment of Call Bros., in a tasteful display, followed by E. M. Andrews, of Charlotte, with pianos and organs. Next we find a large space occupied by W. T. Vogler & Sons, the jewelers, in a magnificent display. Following this we find Prof. Lomady, the gold wire artist, who makes you a name pin while you wait. He has an attractive and catchy sign, "Just Dropped from Klondike," with a nugget nearly as large as your head suspended beneath.

Rosenbacher & Bro. have a lovely display of dresses and hats. This is one of the most attractive exhibits of and artistically decorated. Another wire jeweler-Milton Young-follows and then you see the splendid exhibit of Watt Martin, the dealer in manufacturers' supplies.

Glancing hastily and admiringly at this, we are next brought to the exhibit of A. C. Vogler & Son, furniture dealers. Then the Richmond woodworking company's exhibit.

One of the most attractive exhibits is that of Walter Grimes, the druggist. Walt is an artist and we congratulate him on his display.

Capt. S. E. Allen has one of the best and largest exhibits here, in all kinds of hardware and crockery.

This brings us to the southeast corner of the building where we find oils and stoves, then A. Daye with a handsome exhibit. L. W. Seabolt makes a splendid exhibit of Garland stoves and ranges, lamps, etc. Fogle Bros. are next with an attractive display of woodwork. Senseman & Brickenstein | tion in this state. come next with galvanized iron work, bath tubs and general water works fix-

R. B. Crawford & Co. deserve special mention on their hardware exhibit, and Ashcraft and Owens' drug store is another attractive place.

The Blackwell Durham Tobacco Co., as they always do, have a splendid exhibit.

R. J. Bowen, sewing machines Crist & McArthur, real estate, and then we find the Oconeechee farm display, the most attractive feature of which is the old time over-shot water wheel, made of various products of the farm. The spokes are of wheat, oats and rye stalks, the rim of ears of corn, the buckets of boxes with glass covers, containing grains of corn, oats, wheat, peas, rye, potatoes, turnips, etc. There is also here a good display of the celebrated gilt edge butter from the Oconeechee farm. Then we see the turning to the center of the building we first find the Brown & Williamson tobacco exhibit, about which much might be said.

Dalton, Farrow & Co., have, perhaps, the most unique exhibit at the By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. fair. It is made entirely of their choice brands of plug, and represents the interior of a room, with fire-place and mantle. It will have to be seen to be appreciated. Standing in the corner of the room is the Yellow Kid. This exhibit is a chief attraction.

Then comes Lockett, Vaughn & Co., with their "Red Meat," T. L. Vaughn & Co., with "Red Apple," Bailey Bros. with "Old Bob" and other popular brands, Ogburn, Hill & Co., S. A. Ogburn, with his "Cannon Ball." All of these have large and attractive

The Brown Bros. Co. have a splendid exhibit also, a special feature of which is the revolving top, representone of ther popular brands of plug.

Then we find P. H. Hanes & Co. with a large display with handsome and artistic trimmings, beautiful canopy top studdied with electric lights in varigated colors.

Casey & Wright also have one of the most "catchy" displays here. A dining room scene, table laden with complete dinner outfit, the turkey, a splendid imitation, made of leaf tobacco. In fact all the tempting viands are made of the yellow staple.

The "R. J. R" exhibit comes next and we advise you to come and see it. Wachovia Mills, Salem Iron Works, ticket for comptroller and chief jus-Nissen Wagons and the best exhibit of | tice of court of appeals is still doubtpoultry ever seen in the state, from the ful.

Alamance farm of L. Banks Holt. The fakirs and side show people are on hand in large numbers. One special feature of this fair is that it is free-absolutely no charge for admission. The Star and Brown's warehouses are filled with leaf tobacco, while the Piedmont is reserved as a free lodging place for farmers.

This is the biggest time in the history of Winston-Salem, and its citizens are all to be congratulated. No pains nor effort has been spared to make the occasion a grand success and success is achieved. "There's a grand time in the old town tonight." She's out in full close and several districts are to be dress. Come to see her.

"In 'Ole Virginny."

Richmond, Nov. 3-State gives the democrats 60,000 majority. Governor A SUCCESSFUL COTTON PICKER.

A Machine That May Revolution Cotton Growing.

For a number of years cotton pickers have been tried each season, some being absolute failures and some a partial success. Repeated attempts and repeated failures have led to the assertion that a successful cotton picker is an impossibility.

A gentleman who has seen one work declares that it is an absolute success. It is made by the American Cotton Picker Company, of Pittsburg, and Augus Campbell is the inventor. The gentleman in question drove out to the field where the machine was in operation, saw it work and reached the above conclusion. He comes from the cotton growing district and knows the industry thoroughly. His opinion is therefore worthy of consideration.

There are three requisites of the successful cotton picker which this machine has been shown practically to

1. It does not injure the green

2. The sample of cotton picked by it is good; strict middling so far as trash is concerned.

3. The percentage of cotton gathered in passing is large. It only requires passing over a row twice to gather the greater part of the cotton. The cotton is gathered and put into sacks by the machine without manual

The capacity of the picker is dependent entirely upon the amount of ground two horses can cover in a day by passing over each row twice and upon the quantity of cotton that is pen ready for picking.

As yet though the cost of the machine is too great for it to come into

Facts Worth Studying.

If the Southern Stock-Mutual pays no larger dividends than the 20 per cent. now paid, and the business increases during the next seven years in the same ratio it has increased during the last three years, the actual saving for the ten years to policy-holders in North and South Carolina will be $194,822.00, and to the policy-holders in Greensboro alone, $26,237.00. Be-sides this the Company's assets (reinsurance reserve and surplus) represented by still larger figures will be kept at home and invested in the state. ### PELAGIC SEALING.

The agreement reached by Russia, Japan and the United States to stop plagic sealing until the herd which is in danger of being exterminated has had time to recuperate sounds very well on paper but as neither of this triumvirate of nations has been engaged in the pelagic sealing the practical effects will be nil unless England also assents to the terms of the treaty. That she will do so is extremely improbable in view of her late refusal. to join in the conference and her well known attitude in all matters where her direct gain does not appear.

Her course throughout the Bering sea controversy has been unworthy of a great nation. She has shown a narrowness and a selfishness that goes far to confirm the aspersions cast upon her policy by the jingo press of this country. She has declared by her actions that she does not in the least mind the total extermination of the species if thereby English sealers may reap a profit for a few years.

Experts were appointed at the beginning of the controversy by this country and England to visit the sealing grounds, make a thorough investigation and determine whether or not the herd was in danger of being exterminated. The experts did so and found that the herd showed a rapid and certain decline in recent years. They found also unmistakable evidence that it was due to the pelagic sealing carried on for the most part by English sealers. Nevertheless the English members of the commission refused to join in a report recommending the restriction of pelagic sealing. They even went further and busied themselves, according to Mr. Mendenhall, one of the American experts, in the origination of arguments to prove that the indiscriminate butchery of seals on the open sea was good for the herd.

As the matter stands the total extinction of the herd is purely a questionof a few years. Season after season the process of thining it out continues. The Paris award is wholly inadequate to protect it at present or to prevent its destruction in future. Such a result will contribute to the reputation England has already won for herself, that of a highway robber among nations. Having agreed to arbitrate the matter the United States is powerless to interfere further or go beyond the award of the arbitration tribunal.

THE NEW YORK RETURNS.

The overwhelming victory of Tammany Hall in New York city is of significance in several particulars.

It shows, in the first place, that the people of New York have had enough of the reform administration. It does not mean, necessarily, that the reform administration was a failure, but merely that it did not please the citizens of New York. They have shown that they prefer the spoils methods of Tammany Hall. The rest of the country can scarcely complain.

It is a severe blow to municipal reform. It shows that the victory of the reformers in that city was due merely to spasmodic protest, not to deep-seated conviction. It means that the day cause. It will continue for several is still not far distant when the city days. Admission 5cts.

will be permanently freed from the grasp of the political boss.

The returns do not show any evidence that Tracy threw strength to Van Wyck. The straight Republican vote of 101,823 is quite as large as the conservative estimates on either side made before the election.

It is doubtful if Low, on a straight Republican ticket, could have won. The combined vote of Low and Tracy is only, in round numbers, 15,000 larger than the vote of Van Wyck. Low, on a Reform ticket polled many votes that would have been cast against nim on a Republican ticket.

In the city the Van Wyck majority of 86,668 shows that while reform is a good thing, it is best to be a little conservative in its enforcement.

THE TELEGRAM thanks its many friends for kinds words of appreciation for its enterprise in securing the election returns last night and also Messrs. Bridges and Horry of the Western Union for keeping the office open beyond hours for its benefit. It is the policy of this paper to spare no pains to give its patrons the news promptly and legitimately.

THE Dingley law has once more demonstrated its ability as a revenue raiser by falling nine million dollars short of government expenditures for the month of October. The government credit will, at that rate, soon need patching with bonds again.

An exchange states that a tramp in New York stole a railroad. It is the first evidence that has come to light that the business methods of Gould and Vanderbilt had leaked out in Hop culture near Hamlet proves to be a decided success, and next year it will be conducted on a larger scale.

George Hall and Abe Davidson, the young negroes who were on trial at Asheville on the charge of murdering Harry Slagle, were acquitted.

Deputy sheriff M. Chapland, of Carteret county, carried to Raleigh two convicts who were sent to the penitentiary for larceny of terrapins.

Stokes county farmers are digging cellars in connection with their barns so they can order their tobacco at any time without waiting for a season, says the Danbury Reporter.

The old Vance homestead, on Sixth street, in Charlotte was sold Monday at public auction by Major C. Dowd, commissioner, and was bought by Mr. Zeke Johnson for $4,300.

Six new convicts were yesterday taken to the penitentiary. Four of them were from Franklin county, and two from Columbus. The latter get seven years each for house-breaking.

A special to News and Observer from Weldon says: It is asserted by reliable citizens that convicts on the State farms are allowed too much liberty. The ones called "trusties" are allowed to walk around town and converse with women and others on the streets, and at Tillery, a few days ago one went into a bar-room, got drunk and become so disorderly that the bar keeper had to order him out. This happened where "coon" guards are

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervogs system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. If So, There is No Need to Suffer. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy

WILL CURE YOU

For several years I had been sub ject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Sometimes they would last me an hour and hardly a week passed that I did not have several attacks. I tried everything that was suggested, but found no relief. During these attacks the muscles of the arm and leg were terribly drawn and the whole body was cramped. I was advised to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, which gave me relief at once, but not until I had taken two dozen bottles was I entirely cured. It was eight years ago since I took the remedy, and I have not had a touch of the trouble since. MRS. J. E. BRAWLEY

GOING HOME TO DIE.

A Sight Sufficient to Create Sympathy in the Hardest Heart.

Last night at the Southern depot among the crowd congregated there, where some were hurrying to and fro, some jolly and mirthful, thinking possibly of a visit to some friend, the ever present traveling man with his improved. grip waiting for the train and still others, mere curiosity seekers, a TEL-EGRAM man noticed a sad faced man with a child in his arms and three other small children crouching close beside him on the bench in the waiting room. Near by was the wife and mother, pale, weak and emaciated. Approaching the man we learned that his name was M. F. Moffitt, that the sick woman was his wife and those were their children. They were formerly from West Virginia, but have been in this state some years living near Red Springs, in Robeson county, and were going back to West Virginia. The poor woman's face told the story, She was going home to die, being in the last stage of consumption. The sad, anxious look depicted on the face of the husband and father told something of the great weight on his

Is Beer Fattening.

[By request of W. C. T. U.] It is a well known fact that habitual users of alcoholic liquors are regarded by insurance companies as "bad risks." Statistics show that beer drinkers, and brewers especially, are likely to die soon after passing the age of forty. A well known editor of a religious paper, commenting upon this, says that in wandering through a great cemetery in Germany he observed that city Germans generally die before fifty. The style of the monuments, and other evidences, showed that the men buried there had not been drunkards but prosperous business men, and he "could find no explanation of the death age at the most vigorous period of life, than that of the beer-drinking habit." Beer, say its advocates, is "fattening." So it isbut it is not flesh-forming. It does not contribute to the building of new tissue, it simply prevents the old, wornout, useless particles from escaping in the natural way. The man who increases his weight by drinking beer is carrying around just so much superfluous flesh which the vitality of the body proper is severely taxed to sus-

The Hidden Hand.

The Academy of Music was pretty well filled last night to see the belated performance of "The Hidden Hand." The play is reported to have given tolerable satisfaction-up to the average of plays of its class perhaps. "Grim visaged war had smoothed his wrinkled front" and the play went through without a hitch. Tonight the "Little Officer" will be given. In this the star is said to twinkle with extreme lustre.

Paid for What he Got.

Mr. Turrner, of the Greensboro Coal and Ice company, does not like quail hunting any more. He went hunting yesterday and was having fun galore until he got on a farm that was posted. The farmer came to town, got a warrant and had Mr. Turner arrested. He paid something less than $5 for his experience and today is too busy to go hunting.

Men of fashion find our stock replete with nobbiest importations. Clothes are the outward expression of your taste. ## A Good Combination:

WEAR The looks of clothing may be a temporary availment, but if good service be not with them, they'll never please you. A poor fitting garment, no matter how the material, should not be worn by an up-to-date dresser.

STYLE A suit needs this to catch the eye and aid you in appearance. PRICE Uniting the foregoing elements in clothing to sell at prices to suit the times is just exactly what we are doing.
